A NOTE ON THIS BOOK

How It Was Written

This workbook was written by two equal partners who share one mission: to help coaches, consultants, healers, and experts stop trading their time for money — and start building something that works without them.

Indrodip Ghosh wrote the Introduction, Chapters 1, 2, 3, 8, the Conclusion, and the closing Letter. His chapters draw on his lived experience as a digital product strategist, his years of building and rebuilding businesses from scratch, and the real stories of the 20+ clients he has guided to their first $10K months.

Christinee Mathison wrote Chapters 4, 5, 6, 7, and 9. Her chapters are built from her deep expertise in mindset coaching, audience clarity, and offer building.

INDRODIP

Strategy and Systems — business mechanics, the mindset of scaling, and the market reality of digital products.

CHRISTINEE

Transformation and Clarity — audience, offer building, content, and the inner game of showing up.

Two voices. One mission. One complete roadmap.

A WORD OF GRATITUDE

To Our Clients

You are the reason this book exists.

Every lesson in these pages was forged in real conversations, real struggles, and real breakthroughs — yours. You trusted me when you were afraid. You showed up when it would have been easier to quit. You proved, again and again, that it is never too late to build something that matters.

This is for you.

And to Christinee — my co-author and equal partner in this work. This book would not exist without you. Your clarity, structure, and steady commitment turned ideas into something real and tangible. This was not just collaboration — it was true partnership, built on equal contribution, equal vision, and equal belief in the people we wrote this for.

The Story Behind This Book

| "The secret of getting ahead is getting started."

MARK TWAIN

INTRODUCTION

The Story Behind This Book

Indrodip Ghosh — Co-Author | The5th Consulting

“The secret of getting ahead is getting started.”

MARK TWAIN

I did not grow up knowing how to build a business.

I grew up in India, a country where the unspoken rule is: study hard, get a job, be safe. No one in my world was talking about digital products or online income.

Entrepreneurship was not a career — it was a risk people like us were supposed to avoid.

But something inside me refused to settle.

In 2016, my first year of college, my roommate and I noticed something simple: the cheap speakers on the market were terrible. So we decided to fix it. We built a working prototype. Then our lead engineer — a final-year student — dropped out of the project. No tech, no funding, no guidance. It fell apart.

That was my first failure. It would not be the last.

The Years of Trying

In 2017, I tried event management. In 2018, I stepped into digital marketing, helping local businesses with their online presence. In 2019, I launched a small agency. By 2021, we were working with international clients across Southeast Asia, including campaigns for Booking.com.

JOB

Someone else
decides your hours, your rate, your worth.

SERVICE BUSINESS

You decide your hours — income
still depends on your presence.

DIGITAL ASSET

Build once. Sell repeatedly. Scale without burning out.

From the outside, it looked like success. From the inside, I was exhausted. I was trading hours for money. I had built a business that could not run without me — and that is not a business. That is a job with extra steps.

In 2023, Google offered me a position. A salary. Stability. I almost said yes. But I said no — because I did not build all of this just to sit in an office, living paycheck to paycheck with no freedom.

The Shift That Changed Everything

In 2024, I stepped down from my agency and transitioned into digital products and coaching. I started from zero clients again. But this time, I had something I had never fully used before — my story.

◆ I had tried to hide my background. I genuinely believed that being Indian, starting from a developing country, with no credentials or Ivy League degree, meant that people would not trust me. Several friends had told me the same thing: ‘Western clients don’t work with us.’

I refused to do that. Instead, I showed up as exactly who I was: an Indian entrepreneur who had failed, learned, invested over $16,000 of his own money into education, and slowly figured it out.

By the end of 2024, I had served 20+ clients. I hit my first $10K month. Not with ads. Not with a big team. Just with clarity, story, and a simple system.

Why This Workbook Exists

This workbook is everything I wish I had in 2016, or 2020, or 2022. It is for the coach who is tired of trading time for money. The consultant sitting on expertise they have not yet packaged. The healer who knows they can help more people but has no system to reach them. The person over 40 who thinks they started too late.

This workbook will prove them all wrong. Chapter by chapter, exercise by exercise, decision by decision.

CHAPTER ONE · INDRODIP GHOSH

Understand Your Why

| "He who has a why to live can bear almost any how."

FRIEDRICH NIETZSCHE

CHAPTER ONE

Understand Your Why

Indrodip Ghosh — Co-Author | The5th Consulting

“He who has a why to live can bear almost any how.”

FRIEDRICH NIETZSCHE

Before we talk about products, platforms, or profits, we need to talk about why you are here.

Not why you picked up this workbook. Why do you want to build a business at all? Because your ‘why’ is not decoration. It is fuel. And without the right fuel, you will quit the first time things get hard — and things will get hard.

I have watched brilliant people abandon great ideas because they built their business on shallow reasons: ‘I want to make money.’ ‘I want freedom.’ These sound motivating, but they dissolve under pressure.

“A fitness coach I worked with said her Layer 1 was ‘I want more clients.’ Her Layer 2 was ‘so I can stop working weekends.’ Her real Layer 3? ‘Because my children are growing up and I keep missing it.’ That is not a strategy. That is a reason to not quit.”

CLIENT STORY

The 3-Layer Why Method

Start with your surface reason. Then ask: ‘But why does that matter?’ Then ask it again. Three layers down, you find the real answer.

Exercise: The 3-Layer Why Method

Layer 1 — I want to build this business because...

Layer 2 — That matters to me because...

Layer 3 — The real reason, what I am truly fighting for

Your Non-Negotiables

Every business decision should be filtered through your non-negotiables — the things you are not willing to compromise, no matter what.

Worksheet: Your Non-Negotiables

Time — hours per week you are willing to give right now

Money — minimum monthly income to feel like it's working

Lifestyle — what must your day-to-day look like

Values — what you will never do, regardless of profit

Your 12-Month Vision

One clear, grounded sentence about what you want your life and business to look like in 12 months. If you cannot write it in one sentence, it is not clear enough yet. Clarity is not a luxury. It is a prerequisite.

My 12-Month Vision In One Sentence

In 12 months from today, my life and business look like this...

- Read that sentence every morning for the next 30 days. Before you open social media. Before you check your email. Let it orient your day.

CHAPTER COMPLETE

You have your WHY.

Layer 3 why: what I am truly fighting for

Minimum income non-negotiable: $_____

12-month vision: one sentence, written above

CHAPTER TWO · INDRODIP GHOSH

Diagnose Your Current Situation

"If you do not know where you are, a map is useless."

CECILE SPRINGER

CHAPTER TWO

Diagnose Your Current Situation

Indrodip Ghosh — Co-Author | The5th Consulting

“If you do not know where you are, a map is useless.”

CECILE SPRINGER

Most people skip this step. They want to jump straight to the product, the launch, the money.

But if you do not have an honest picture of where you are right now, you will build in the wrong direction. This chapter is your business audit. It might be uncomfortable. That is by design. The truth, even when it stings, is the only foundation worth building on.

The Time-Money Trap Audit

There are three types of income: Active, Leveraged, and Passive. Most people reading this are stuck in Active income — meaning if they stop working, the money stops too. The goal of this workbook is to move you toward Leveraged and Passive income.

ACTIVE

Trade time
for money

Stops when you stop

LEVERAGED

Serve many with one effort

Scales with your audience

PASSIVE

Build once, sell repeatedly

Continues without direct involvement

The Time-Money Audit

What % of your current income is Active? Leveraged? Passive?

How many hours per week are you currently trading for money?

What would happen to your income if you took two weeks completely off?

The Bleeding Money Audit

Before you focus on making more, identify what is already leaking out. Most new businesses have small financial leaks that drain momentum before it can build.

Where Is Your Money Going?

Tools/subscriptions you pay for but don't actively use

Time spent on tasks that do not directly generate revenue

Services you are offering below your true market value

List 3 things you are paying for that generate no return

What is one hour of your time actually worth? (Be honest.)

Your Transferable Expertise

What do you know, right now, today, that someone else would pay to learn? Most people dismiss their own knowledge because it feels obvious to them. Obvious to you is a breakthrough for someone else.

“A healing practitioner I worked with spent six months convincing herself that her knowledge of trauma recovery was ‘too basic.’ She had helped herself recover from burnout after a 20-year corporate career. That was not basic. That was a $997 course waiting to exist.”

The Asset Mindset

| "Do not work for money. Make money work for you."

ROBERT KIYOSAKI

CHAPTER THREE

The Asset Mindset

Indrodip Ghosh — Co-Author | The5th Consulting

“Do not work for money. Make money work for you.”

ROBERT KIYOSAKI

A job gives you a paycheck. A business gives you clients. An asset gives you income whether you show up or not.

You are not here to build a better job. You are here to build an asset.

What Is a Digital Asset?

A digital asset is anything you create once and can sell an unlimited number of times without your direct involvement. An ebook. A course. A template pack. A membership. A mini-training.

“A nutritional consultant I worked with had spent 12 years giving the same advice one-on-one to private clients. We packaged her method into a $47 digital toolkit. It made more in its first month than two of her consulting clients combined — without a single additional coaching call.”

CLIENT STORY

Your Knowledge Inventory

What do you know deeply — from experience, not just education?

What transformation have you made in your own life others are still searching for?

What skills feel effortless to you but appear difficult to others?

What system, process, or method have you developed that gets results?

My top 3 areas of expertise or lived knowledge

The $7 to $10K Ladder

Here is how a digital product business actually scales. Not one big launch — a connected ladder, each product serving the same person at a deeper level.

Where Are You On The Ladder?

Where on this ladder does your expertise naturally fit? Start there.

What is one digital product you could create in the next 7 days?

What would the next product on your ladder look like after that?

CHAPTER FOUR · CHRISTINEE MATHISON

Find Your Perfect Audience

| "If you speak to everyone, you speak to no one."

SETH GODIN

CHAPTER FOUR

Find Your Perfect Audience

Christinee Mathison — Co-Author | The5th Consulting

“If you speak to everyone, you speak to no one.”

SETH GODIN

You could have the most brilliant digital product in the world. But if you are trying to sell it to everyone, you will sell it to almost no one.

This is the mistake I see over and over: coaches, consultants, and healers who are talented and qualified hold back from choosing a specific person because they are afraid of leaving someone out.

Here is what I know for certain: the more specific you are about who you serve, the easier it becomes to attract them. This chapter is about finding your One Person — the specific human being whose life your product is designed to transform.

The One Person Method

Your One Person is not a demographic. He or she is a real, specific human being with a specific frustration, a specific dream, and a specific reason why they haven't made it happen yet.

- ★ Think of ONE real person you already know — a friend, a past client, a colleague — who has the problem you solve and the desire to fix it. If you cannot think of a real person, think of yourself 2-3 years ago, before you figured out what you now know.

Exercise: Describe Your One Person

First name

Approximate age

Current job, role, or situation

What does his/her typical day look like?

The biggest frustration he/she carries into every week

Inner World

What does he/she secretly wish life looked like?

What has he/she already tried that didn't work?

What does he/she tell themselves is the reason they haven't made it happen?

What does he/she feel at 3am when they can't sleep?

External World

Where does he/she spend time online?

What does he/she read, watch, or listen to for inspiration?

Who does he/she already follow or admire online?

Where Your Audience Is Already Hanging Out

You do not need to be everywhere. You need to be where your One Person already is.

Platform	Best For
Instagram	Coaches, healers, wellness — Reels & Stories
LinkedIn	Consultants & corporate-adjacent professionals
Facebook Groups	Clients 40+ who prefer community conversation
YouTube	Long-form how-to content that builds deep trust
Email	You own it. No algorithm. Direct inbox access

Where Is Your One Person?

The platform where he/she spends most time

The type of content he/she engages with most

Three accounts, communities, or pages he/she likely follows

One community/group where he/she asks peers for advice

The 5 Problems He/She Wakes Up Thinking About

Most people describe their product instead of reflecting their buyer's pain. Speak to the pain, not the methodology.

Exercise: The 5 Midnight Problems

What keeps him/her up at night about work or income?

What has he/she tried before that let them down?

What does he/she feel is missing that others seem to have?

What does he/she fear will still be true in 2 years?

What would he/she type into Google at 11pm?

The Pain to Product Bridge

His/Her Pain	Your Product Bridges To...
"I am exhausted from trading hours for money and cannot see a way out."	A workbook mapping exactly how to build income that doesn't require constant time.
"I tried online courses before but they were overwhelming."	Step-by-step, one chapter at a time, in under 30 minutes.
"I don't think anyone will pay for what I know."	Chapter 3's Knowledge Inventory proves expertise. Chapter 5 shows how to package it.

My Pain-To-Product Bridge

His/her biggest pain (in their words, not yours)

What your product specifically does about that pain

The transformation he/she experiences as a result

One-sentence bridge: "If you are struggling with ___, this is for you because ___"

The Truth About Niching Down

Choosing ONE person does not mean you will only ever work with one type of person. It means your marketing speaks to one person clearly. A clear, specific message often attracts a wider audience than a vague one ever would. The specialist always earns more than the generalist.

Create a Simple Offer That Sells Itself

Christinee Mathison — Co-Author | The5th Consulting

“People do not buy products. They buy better versions of themselves.”

CHRISTINEE MATHISON

There is a difference between having a product and having an offer.

A product is what you made. An offer is what you present — the complete package of value that makes your buyer think: ‘I would feel ridiculous saying no to this.’

What Makes An Offer ‘Stupid Easy’ To Say Yes To

- ☐ Value feels bigger than the price — $200 of value for $7.
- ☐ Outcome is crystal clear — not ‘more clarity’, but a specific deliverable by a specific day.
- ☐ Risk feels near zero — a guarantee, low price, or tangible deliverable.
- ☐ Easy to explain in one sentence — under 20 words.
- ☐ Speaks to his/her exact situation — ‘this was written for me.’

JAMES CLEAR

The Organic Content System

Christinee Mathison — Co-Author | The5th Consulting

“You do not rise to the level of your goals. You fall to the level of your systems.”

Content is not about getting famous. It is about getting found — by the right person, at the right moment, with the right message.

“A mindset coach I worked with had been burning out on discovery calls every week with zero online content. We built a 30-day content plan speaking directly to her One Person’s fear of visibility. Within 45 days she had 12 new leads coming to her, instead of the other way around.”

Your 5 Selling-Without-Selling Posts

‘Selling without selling’ means content so aligned with your One Person’s problems that mentioning your offer feels like a natural next step — not a pitch.

1 The Before Post

Describe your One Person’s life right now — without your product.

2 The After Post

Describe what life looks like after the problem is solved.

3 The Myth Buster Post

Challenge a common belief keeping him/her stuck.

4 The Result Post

Share a real result — yours or a client’s. Specific numbers.

5 The Soft Pitch Post

Tell the story of why you built your product. 80% story, 20% pitch.

The Winning Formula

Post one reel per day to attract new eyes. Write 2–3 long captions or videos per week to convert those eyes into buyers.

CHAPTER EIGHT · INDRODIP GHOSH

Your Simple Launch Plan

"A good plan executed today is better than a perfect plan executed next week."

GEORGE S. PATTON

CHAPTER EIGHT

Your Simple Launch Plan

Indrodip Ghosh — Co-Author | The5th Consulting

“A good plan executed today is better than a perfect plan executed next week.”

GEORGE S. PATTON

There is no such thing as the perfect launch. There is only the launch that happens — and the one that stays in your head forever.

Most people freeze at the technical side. This chapter proves that thought wrong.

Chapter 8 — Your Three Parts

8A — Get Ready: set up your social media and selling platform.

8B — Build Your Launch: write your 7-day content plan.

8C — Launch and Learn: day-by-day actions and what to do after your first sale.

If you can send an email, you can do this. Let us begin.

Get Ready

Setting up your social media and selling platform, step by step.

Before you launch anything, you need two foundations: a social media presence, and a simple selling platform.

Part 1: Your Social Media

For our audience, the most effective platforms are Facebook and Instagram. Start with Facebook — it is where most people over 40 already spend their time.

Post from your personal Facebook Profile, not a Business Page. Business Pages get restricted reach unless you pay for ads. Your personal profile reaches people who already trust you — your first buyers.

1 Update your profile photo

A clear, friendly photo of your face — not a logo. People buy from people they feel they know.

2 Write a simple bio

Plain English: who you help and what you help them do.

3 Set your posts to 'Public'

Not just 'Friends' — so anyone can discover and read your posts.

4 Add your product link to your profile

Once your product page is live in Part 2, add it here.

Instagram — Only If You'll Use It

Use a Personal account (not Business/Creator). Write a clear bio in ~150 characters. Add your product link as your one 'link in bio.' Choose one platform and do it well before adding a second.

Part 2: Your Selling Platform

Your selling platform lists your product, collects payment securely, and delivers your product automatically. No website or designer needed.

Platform	Best For	Notes
Gumroad	Free to sign up. Designed for first-time sellers.	Recommended for beginners
Stan Store	Good for coaches. Simple design.	One monthly fee
Payhip	Very similar to Gumroad. Clean and simple.	Another excellent beginner option

How To Set Up Gumroad

1 Create your free account

Go to gumroad.com, click 'Start selling', enter email, confirm via the email link.

2 Upload your product

Click 'New Product', choose Digital product, name it, upload your PDF, write a 2–4 sentence description, set your price.

3 Connect Stripe to receive money

Settings → Payouts → Connect with Stripe. Enter your details and verify your identity.

4 Customise your product page

Add a cover image made in Canva. Preview your page before publishing.

5 Publish and copy your link

Click Publish. Copy your gumroad.com/l/yourproduct link — the most important link in your business right now.

 Stripe setup takes 10–15 minutes and may feel technical. Search YouTube for 'How to connect Stripe to Gumroad' for a walkthrough, or ask a trusted friend to sit with you. It is a one-time setup.

Test It Before You Launch

- ☐ Open your Gumroad product link on your phone — does it load?

CHAPTER NINE · CHRISTINEE MATHISON

Mindset for Consistent $10K Months

| "Your outer world is a reflection of your inner world."

T. HARV EKER

Mindset for Consistent $10K Months

Christinee Mathison — Co-Author | The5th Consulting

“Your outer world is a reflection of your inner world.”

T. HARV EKER

You have made it to the final chapter. That alone puts you ahead of 90% of people who abandon something like this three chapters in.

None of your funnel, offer, or content will work if your inner world is working against you.

Commercial vs. Industrial-Grade Mindset

Commercial Mindset

‘I need to hustle harder. More hours, more content, more effort. If I just do MORE, results will come.’ — burns you out.

Industrial-Grade Mindset

‘Which ONE action, done consistently, produces the most results? Let me do that — and only that — until it works.’ — builds something that lasts.

“A health consultant I worked with had been posting daily on five platforms with minimal results. We simplified: one platform, one offer, one niche, one CTA. Within six weeks she had her first $3K month — not from more effort, but from focused, consistent effort in the right direction.”

CLIENT STORY

- ☐ One product. One audience. One platform. Until $5K months are consistent.
- ☐ One content habit. Post once a day, whether you feel like it or not.
- ☐ One offer. Perfect it. Sell it. Improve it with feedback.
- ☐ One CTA in rotation.
- ☐ Review once a week. Do more of what worked.

Handling Rejection, Slow Days, and Doubt

When...	Do This
Rejection	A 'no' is not personal — it means 'not right now.' For every 10 no's, one was waiting for you to ask.
Slow Days	A data point, not a verdict. Look at 30 days, not 24 hours. Focus on inputs, not outcomes.
Doubt	Ask: 'Am I doubting myself, or my system?' If the system — review it. If yourself — return to your Layer 3 why.

Your Doubt Response Plan

When I feel like quitting, the ONE thing I will do instead

The person I will call or message when doubt gets loud

The reminder I'll read on hard days (my WHY, in my own words)

Evidence I already have that I am capable (3 things that took courage)

The 1% Consistency Rule

The 1% Rule

You do not need to be 100% better than where you started. You need to be 1% better every day — at understanding your audience, writing content that connects, explaining your offer, believing you deserve to succeed. After 90 days, you will not recognise the business, or the person running it.

Your Morning Business Ritual

1 Minute 1 — Read Your Why

Open Chapter 1. Read your 12-month vision and Layer 3 why. Let it land.

2 Minute 2 — Identify Your One Priority

The single most important thing you can do today. Write it down.

3 Minute 3 — Visualise The Win

Imagine your One Person finding, buying, and being changed by your product.

4 Minute 4 — Gratitude Check

Name three things you're grateful for in your business right now.

5 Minute 5 — Commit To One Action

Say out loud: 'Today I will ___ for my business.' Then go do it first.

Personalise Your Morning Ritual

The time I will do this every morning

Scale, Simplify, or Reassess

Phase	Signs
Scale When...	Consistent sales with one product/offer. Audience growing, engagement strong. Clear, repeatable system.
Simplify When...	Multiple products, none converting. Overwhelmed, can't track what's working. Managing complexity instead of creating.
Reassess When...	60+ days posting with no sales. Unsure who you're talking to. Burnt out, resentful, lost your why.

Where Are You Right Now?

Which phase are you in? (Scale / Simplify / Reassess)

What does that mean for your next 30 days?

The one thing I will STOP doing

The one thing I will focus on completely for 30 days

CONCLUSION · INDRODIP GHOSH

Your Roadmap at a Glance

"A good plan executed today is better than a perfect plan executed next week."

GEORGE S. PATTON

CONCLUSION

Your Roadmap at a Glance & Your Next 24 Hours

Indrodip Ghosh — Co-Author | The5th Consulting

You have done the work. Nine chapters. Nine frameworks. Dozens of exercises. But none of it matters unless you use it.

Most people who read a workbook like this feel inspired for a few days — then return to exactly what they were doing before. You are not most people. You picked this up. You completed it. That already puts you ahead of 95% of people who download, start, and abandon.

Your Completed Roadmap

Ch	What You Did	What You Now Have
1	Found your why	You know what you are fighting for.
2	Diagnosed your starting point	You know where you are.
3	Adopted the asset mindset	You know how the game works.
4	Identified your ideal client	You know exactly who you serve.
5	Designed your first product	You have something to sell.
6	Built an irresistible offer	You have a reason for them to buy.
7	Created a content plan	You have a voice in the market.
8	Scheduled your launch	You have a date that cannot move.
9	Strengthened your mindset	You have the resilience to last.

What To Do In The Next 24 Hours

- ☐ Post one piece of content today — your story, method, or offer. Just post.
- ☐ Set your product launch date. Tell someone, so you're accountable.
- ☐ Send one DM to someone who could benefit from your product.
- ☐ Start building your first digital product — even if it's just an outline.
- ☐ If you want to go deeper, visit 10kroadmap.org.

Your Final Commitment Page

My One Person's name is

My product is

My launch date is

My daily content commitment is

The one mindset rule I'm taking into the next 90 days is Your story is still being written. Make it worth reading.

You Earned This

I did not grow up knowing how to build a business. I just kept trying to solve problems — and failed my way forward.

I have been the person who heard: ‘Indian people are scammers, no one will trust you online.’ I believed it, for a time. Then I proved it wrong — client by client, month by month.

Today, almost all of my clients are men and women over 45, starting their first online business from scratch, in countries I have never visited. No ads. No email lists. Just clarity, honesty, and a system that works.

And I want that for you, too. Not someday. Now.

If you are struggling — I see you. You are not broken. You are early.

You did not just read a workbook. You made a decision. You said yes to yourself — maybe for the first time in a long time. That matters more than you know.
